

Your Business CRM Preparation & Discovery Options

Detailed scoping and careful planning give you a solid foundation for bringing the right CRM into your business, and getting results from it. The key is to follow a process that makes sure you won't overlook anything important.

Our objective and informative discovery sessions are an ideal way to follow that process and kick start your CRM strategy or project.

We'll give you the knowledge to:

- Assess the role for CRM in your business
- Scope out your business requirements
- Select the right software and partner for your business
- Get your key stakeholders involved and bought in from the start

Thinking ahead?

Join our 8 Step CRM Knowledge Webinar Series for an online exploration of each of the topics that will make your CRM research easier and more informed. Giving you a helicopter view of CRM capabilities we'll go on to explore available solutions, the CRM scoping process and the creation of a business case.

On a deadline?

We can come to you and facilitate complementary* discovery sessions that will help you fully prepare for the next steps on your journey. We'll follow up with a progression pack that will detail what we discussed and the opportunities for CRM to make a tangible difference in your business.
